

Privacy Policy

1. Basic policy

The Kanto District Transport Bureau collects information on users of its website (https://www.tb.mlit.go.jp/kanto/kankou/explore_kanto/index.html) within the scope required for optimal provision of services (including the provision of information as well as the collection of opinions and comments through the site). All information collected will be used appropriately within the scope of the purposes specified below.

2. Scope of information collected

(1) This website collects information on Internet domain names, access status, and other information in the form of access logs.

(2) Some of the pages in this site use cookies. Cookies refer to information about a user, sent by a web server to the user's browser for the site operator to distinguish the user's computer from others', and accumulated in the user's computer. Using cookies, the site operator can collect information on the number of visits from the user's computer, the pages visited, and so forth. The Kanto District Transport Bureau, however, does not use cookies to collect any information that allows it to identify individual users. The browser can be set so that the functions of cookies are nullified. Nullifying the functions of cookies does not affect the ability to use this website.

(3) Users may be requested to register their name, address, age, phone number, email address, and other information if they wish to use certain pages of the site, such as the collection of opinions and comments. For inquiries made without the use of the inquiry form, the email address of the inquirer will be displayed on the receiver's end.

(4) Users must register their email address with the site if they wish to use email delivery service. In addition, they may be requested to provide other information such as their address, phone number, occupation and other information, if necessary.

(5) Users may be requested to provide information as required by the nature of particular purpose by the Kanto District Transport Bureau. These may include calls for applications to participate in PR and other events, as well as written surveys.

3. Purposes of use

(1) The information collected in Items 2-(1) and 2-(2) will be used to provide optimal services on this site.

(2) The opinions and comments collected in Item 2-(3), including user information, will be used to develop future policies and measures for the Kanto District Transport Bureau. For this reason, they may be forwarded to related divisions in the Kanto District Transport Bureau. Users' email addresses, phone numbers, and fax numbers may be used to reply to their inquiries and contact them for confirmation. The collected information may also be forwarded to related organizations, depending on the nature of opinions expressed or comments made.

(3) The information collected in Item 2-(4) will be used to deliver information via email. The registered information will be used to produce information to be delivered in the future.

(4) The information collected in Item 2-(5) will be used only if it is required for carrying out PR and other events concerned in an optimal manner.

4. Restrictions on the use and provision of information

The Kanto District Transport Bureau will not use the collected information for purposes other than those specified in Paragraph 3, nor provide it to third parties, unless information disclosure is required by laws or ordinances, violations such as unauthorized access or threats are detected, or other special reasons exist. However, statistically processed information on accesses to this site, user information, and so forth may be published.

5. Security measures

The Kanto District Transport Bureau takes the necessary measures to prevent the leakage, loss, or destruction of the collected information and to manage it appropriately. Analysis of the status of accesses to this site and the user opinions received may be consigned to external organizations when deemed necessary for business reasons. In this case, the Kanto District Transport Bureau ensures that these external organizations take the necessary measures to appropriately manage the information collected.

6. Disclosure of personal information

Except for user information provided on occasions such as the collection of opinions and comments and applications to participate in PR events, this website does not collect general information, such as the user's name and date of birth, that would allow the Kanto District Transport Bureau to identify the user. Information on user information collected on the occasions above falls into the category of personal information held by administrative agencies that its owner can request to be disclosed in accordance with the provisions of the law concerning the Protection of Personal Information Held by Administrative Agencies (Law No. 58 of May 30, 2003). In determining whether personal information should be disclosed or otherwise handled at the user's request, the Kanto District Transport Bureau will examine whether it falls into the category of personal information as stipulated by the law.

7. Scope of application

This privacy policy applies only to this website. The handling of information on the websites of other organizations is the responsibility of the respective organizations.

8. Other

The Kanto District Transport Bureau may revise its privacy policy from time to time. All future revisions will be announced on this website.
